TASTING NOTES

This rosé wine comes from a parcel selection of Grenache and Cinsault grown on an exceptional terroir. The color is clear. The nose is dominated by citrus fruits. The palate is delicate and round with a good length. Grapefruit with hints of apricot bring freshness and pleasure. This rosé is elegant and well balanced.

HISTORY

When the Phoceans founded Marseille, 2,600 years ago, they introduced for the first time in France a fabulous plant: the vine. Historically, the Mediterranean basin is therefore the very first vineyard in France. Since then, the winemaking tradition and the art of producing wine have come a long way, but the vineyard has never left our region!
